

Nita Marie is an empowerment coach, she out-earns 99.9% of her adult modeling peers, and unabologetic advocate for women embracing their sexuality and authentic selves. After transforming her life from restrictive beginnings to building a thriving business empire and helping more than 500 other women achieve the same success, Nita has become a sought-after speaker, inspiring audiences to break free from societal constraints and reclaim their power.

Through her unique blend of raw storytelling and actionable insights, Nita leaves audiences fired up to pursue confidence, creativity, and independence. Her story isn't just about success—it's about redefining life on her own terms and helping others do the same.

As the founder of Sacred Butterfly Empowerment, Nita combines personal growth, self-love, and financial independence in a transformative journey for women ready to fly free. When she's not inspiring audiences or empowering her clients, you'll find her exploring new adventures, devouring spicy novels, or basking in the creative freedom she's worked so hard to reclaim.
